Rocco

multifunctional outdoor object

Rocco is an all-rounder in your garden throughout the year. Thanks to its clever design, this multifunctional outdoor object can be used as a fire pit, a grill or an ice bucket. Thanks to the recess in the design, the conversion can easily be carried out. And since only the central zone becomes hot when in use, Rocco functions as a table or a bench too. Finally, you can also extend your Rocco with various accessories, such as a table top, a cover to put out the fire and a parasol base.

Did you know that the combination of corten steel and aluminium makes Rocco totally rustproof? Also good to know: a number of cutouts at the bottom of the base enable air circulation or water drainage. Choose the standard colour black or personalize the object with a RAL colour of your choice.

A cover for Rocco comes in handy when you want to hush the fire and enjoy your outdoor moment a little longer.

We also designed handles for easy opening and closing.

Rocco jr.

compact multifunctional object

Rocco jr. is the smaller version of our multifunctional outdoor object Rocco, specially designed for smaller (city) gardens and compact outdoor spaces. Rocco jr. is also available as a standard fire bowl and can be transformed into an ice bucket or grill using proper accessories. This garden furniture can be complemented with a table top and a fire-extinguishing cover with matching handles.

Rocco jr. is easy to move but sturdy and resistant to all weather conditions. The levelling feet are adjustable and do not scratch the surface. Also good to know: air circulation and water drainage are made possible thanks to a number of thoughtful cut-outs at the bottom. Moreover, the nice shape of the side elements allows you to arrange logs neatly.

Tupa

multifunctional outdoor object

Tupa is a multifunctional outdoor design object. You can use Tupa as a fire bowl or transform it into a garden table or even a champagne bar. Complete the base with fire bowl with various accessories if you like, such as a grill, a black aluminium table top and a table top with ice bucket. Even a cover plate in corten steel with black, aluminium handles is included.

With its outspoken design, Tupa really stands out. Its sophisticated base with distinctive curves and robust upper part unmistakably personify moróro's DNA. And thanks to the adjustable feet and compact design, this allrounder perfectly fits into every outdoor space, even intimate gardens or city terraces. Also nice: slide your feet under to keep them nice and warm.

Christo

outdoor seat

Christo is a stripped-down, comfortable outdoor seat in powder coated aluminium. Its added value definitely lies in its multifunctional character: Christo is a stool as much as a garden tool or side table. Moreover, this functional design object is stainless and also has subtle legs to prevent scratches on the surface.

Paulo

bench for two

moróro brings people together. Just take a look at the outdoor bench Paulo. On this black two-seater you can enjoy your garden, terrace or outdoor space in intimate company. True to moróro's design DNA, Paulo is both robust and refined: stainless, stable and lightweight thanks to its aluminium manufacturing, but also with an ultra-slim and refined design. Do you feel a light suspension when you are sitting down? The subtle dynamic seating adds a playful touch to this garden bench that never gets boring. Talking about playful design: if you wish, you can also use the openings in the design to store wood, for example. That comes in handy, and it makes this object even more beautiful to watch.

Ilda

Outdoor planter

Ilda is an outdoor planter. The design resulted from the Tupa-fire table with the same distinctive base and recognisable curves. Ilda is characterised by its low height and its width, making it a unique asset for all those who like to combine their love of design and the outdoors. Ilda comes in two sizes and is made of seamless, powder-coated black aluminium.

This makes this garden object not only an aesthetic and production highlight, but also a lightweight that is equally suitable for use on flat patios and roof terraces.

Garzón

decorative space divider

Garzón is a decorative outdoor space divider in black, powder coated aluminium. You can use it to make layouts on the terrace or in the garden, to ensure privacy where needed or to display your favourite plants or decorative objects. Garzón is 1.91 m high, stainless and can be firmly anchored in the ground thanks to the screw holes in the steel base plate. The space divider has two versions, depending on the shape of the cutouts in the design: straight or geometric.

Belgian quality

Belgian design is well-known worldwide for its authenticity and unique kind of savvy, but also for its high quality standards and durability. That is certainly the case for moróro. After all, each object is entirely made of aluminium. This is the ultimate guarantee for rustproof outdoor design that can stand the test of time and any weather condition.

The moróro collection is manufactured in Belgium and shipped worldwide with great care.

About moróro

moróro stands for Belgian outdoor design that is inspired by Brazilian architecture in terms of style and choice of materials. This is also reflected in the name, a reference to one of the houses designed by the Brazilian architect Marcio Kogan and in the combination of robustness, sophistication and warmth. The brand was founded in 2017 by Veerle Lapierre and Karel Vanhuyse, a couple of Flemish entrepreneurs who, in their search for strong, well thought-out, no-nonsense outdoor concepts, started designing and producing their own objects. Their first outdoor object Rocco quickly became an international success. In 2022 moróro was given a permanent home in Krombeke, Belgium, in an architectural new building with barn allure in the midst of Flemish nature and surrounded by the entire moróro collection.
